

Statement

Berkey chooses not to sell filter systems in two states in the United States, California and Iowa.

Release of Liability

I understand that Berkey chooses not to sell water filter products in the state of California.. I understand that in part, this is related to lead laws and testing compliance issues which the makers of Berkey water filter products have not resolved with the state of California. I am purchasing a Berkey water filter product from R C Canning Enterprises, LLC to produce purified water for a pet(s) and or livestock only. I understand that if the Berkey water filter products I am purchasing are used for any purpose other than the purification of water for pets and livestock, I will not be using the product for its intended purposes.. I understand that I am solely responsible for any health or legal consequences that may arise from human consumption of water processed by Berkey water filter products that I am purchasing and I release R C Canning Enterprises, LLC from any liability resulting from misuse of the product. Misuse is defined as use of water processed by Berkey water filter products for other than pet(s) and livestock consumption.

Furthermore, I will not resell or gift this product in the state of California without providing this document to the next owner or end user and I understand that liability remains with me if the product is resold or gifted.
